“I have started this website as a fun. But when people started using it, I was compelled to update it. Internet is a big ocean. It is time consuming and sometimes very difficult to find the right thing from the depth. I have taken about five years’ research to make this website and still updating,” said L. Srikumar, who developed the website, said.

A civil engineer working at the Ministry of Tourism, Srikumar says he has been getting “more than 1.5 million hits a month.”
